

Farm Labor Happy Borrower Prohibition Party Candidates Do Not "Choo to Run"

Senator Norris, Republican, of the political parties or platform, condemnations of the President and the power interests.

Washington, July 13 (P).—The Farm Labor party has selected candidates who "do not choose to run."

Senator Norris, Republican, of that party, declined the nomination yesterday, but in a statement accompanying his refusal said his action was not prompted by satisfaction with the two political parties, or their forms.

His refusal was followed by one, Will Vereen, Moultrie, Ga., named for Vice President, who called his nomination "absurd."

"For reasons that I have several times publicly expressed, I cannot accept the nomination for President tendered me yesterday in Chicago," Norris said. "This does not mean that I am not in full sympathy with those who are opposed to the platform and the Presidential nominees of the major political parties."

Declares Present System Antiquated. Senator Norris declared that the present system of choosing a President is "antiquated and illogical."

"This system must continue to grow even worse until the people become sufficiently aroused to demand that they have a direct voice and vote in the election of a chief magistrate."

The Nebraska Senator devoted only the opening paragraphs of his statement to a discussion of the Electoral College, and then, referring to electoral power, he declared "that in this campaign we are confronted with a practical demonstration of the power of monopoly."

He said that the power interests were strong enough to cause the major political parties in their platform to remain silent on the issue, which he termed "the most important question before the American people."

Senator Norris asserted that there were indications of a "gentlemen's agreement" between the Democratic and Republican leaders to do nothing in the campaign which would interfere with what he termed "the power trust," and added that "anyone who violates any such silent understanding shall be denounced as a mud-slinger, as a Bolshevik and as an all-around enemy of society."

He advised the people to "elect as many Progressives as possible to the Senate and the House of Representatives, where they can carry on in the past, an uphill and one-sided fight to retain, for the benefit of the people, the natural, God-given resources of the country."

KIDNAPPED CHILD FOUND UNHURT IN VACANT HOUSE

Miami, Fla., July 13 (P).—Billy McAllister, four years old, who was kidnapped last night from the home of his mother here, was found unhurt in a Coral Gables vacant house this morning by persons living next door, who heard him pounding on the door of a closet in which he was locked.

The child said his kidnappers were a "fat man and a woman."

Billy, the child, was snatched from his bed last night while his mother, Mrs. May McAllister, was away. The grandmother, answering his cries, rushed into his ground floor bedroom to find the bed vacant, and the screen propped up with a stick.

Early today a telephone call from the McAllister Hotel downtown informed the distraught grandmother that the child was unhurt, but it would not be returned until $3,000 was paid. The caller went so far as to give a telephone number for her to call about the ransom and a warning not to "repeat this message."

Carmine J. Nail Nominates Ticket In County Jail

Branch of Fall Guys' Association Picked Guilty to Charge in Police Court—Sentenced to 120 Days in Jail.

Carmine J. Nail, the urbane and suave organizer of the Borrowers' Branch of the Fall Guys' Association, pleaded guilty in police court this morning to a charge of petit larceny in "borrowing" the sum of $25 from Nicholas Kaslich, who has a pool room on Wall street, and was sentenced to 120 days in the county jail.

Back of that lies the story of the organization of the Borrowers' Branch of the aforementioned Fall Guys' Association which was organized by the suave Mr. Nail when he found his funds running low. He considered the problem of his empty purse and then evolved the tall tale of a big construction job at Glasco where his father had obtained the contract to erect nineteen six-family apartment houses. His father, he said, never touched a contract under $100,000.

Starting in life as laborer at 90 cents a day, the father had worked his way up until he was one of the moneyed men of Suffern, N. Y., the son said, and owing to his early experiences as a laborer he felt a deep sympathy for their needs and a wage of $6 a day instead of $5 a day that the son said he understood a laborer received in Kingston.

Carmine also said that he expected a draft for $5,000 on Monday and until then could his friend loan him $25, when he would repay the loan with many thanks. Mr. Nail evidently felt that $25 was not sufficient for his needs for he offered another man a job at $9 a day on the strength of which he promptly borrowed $40. Then he took his landlord into his confidence and borrowed $50, bringing the sum total up to $115.

The three kind friends who had loaned him the $115 were present in police court today, and both they and the police were puzzled over the fact that Carmine when arrested Tuesday at the West Shore station where he was about to board a train had only $12 left of the sum he had borrowed.

The trial of Carmine had been held open until today to give his parents, who are said to be highly respected residents of Suffern, a chance to come to Kingston. This morning, however, they were not in court and on Carmine's plea of guilty he was sentenced.

"Carmine had one of the smoothest lines of talk I ever heard," confessed one of those who had been "stung" by the happy borrower and he added, "most anyone would have fallen for him if he had handed them the same line of talk he handed me."

Carmine appeared in court dressed in a nifty suit of gray and without question was one of the best dressed prisoners who had ever faced the judge in police court.

Germany Accepts Kellogg's Treaty

Washington, July 13 (P).—Secretary Kellogg's revised treaty for outlawing war is entirely acceptable to Germany and a favorable reply from France is expected within a few days.

A note signed by Acting Foreign Minister Schubert at Berlin, detailing his country's attitude, was made public at the state department last night, while Ambassador Claudel called on Mr. Kellogg to tell him of the forthcoming French reply.

This will probably be handed to Ambassador Herrick at Paris tomorrow, he said, on the great French holiday celebrating the fall of the Bastille. The reply he described as an acceptance of the explanations and interpretations of the proposed pact as outlined by Mr. Kellogg in his note of June 23.

Germany's acceptance was sweeping and unqualified, and the note declared that the Berlin government was ready to sign the treaty at once in the form in which it was submitted.

A draft of the proposed pact was sent simultaneously to fourteen nations, including in addition to France and Germany, Great Britain, Japan and Italy. Germany was the first to reply.

Under the proposed treaty, the signatory nations would "condemn recourse to war" and "renounce it as an instrument of national policy." Further, they would agree to use only pacific means in seeking a settlement of whatever disputes or conflicts might arise between them, regardless of their nature or origin.

In its present form, the pact is a modification of one submitted in April. Revisions in the language of the treaty were made to meet objections raised by other nations.

Water Board Rejects All Bids For New Pipe Line

Consider Bids Too High and Decide to Use Cast Iron Instead of Steel Pipe—New Line Will Assure Freedom From Contamination and Result in Saving Water.

The board of water commissioners met Thursday afternoon for the purpose of receiving the report of Sanborn & Bogert, engineers, who have been tabulating the bids received for the construction of an aqueduct and appurtenances to convey the waters of Cooper's Lake at Lake Hill to Kingston Reservoir No. 2 located six miles below near Woodstock. Bids were received and opened on June 26, and at that time the bids were all referred to the engineers to tabulate.

After the report of the engineers had been received and the matter discussed the board decided to reject all of the bids received and to solicit new bids. The board believed the bids received were too high and that better figures could be secured. All of the eleven bids received were considered in excess of what the work should cost.

Board Decides on Iron Pipe. Bids were asked for the installation of the material to lay a 24 or 30 inch pipe line for the distance of six miles. Bids were solicited for the job in concrete and steel and also in cast iron pipe for the total distance of 32,000 feet. The advantages of both steel and cast iron was discussed by the board and it was decided that the steel pipe be rejected and the board ask for bids again for cast iron pipe, which the board considers the better material for the pipe line.

New Line to Insure Purity. The construction of the aqueduct from Cooper's Lake to Reservoir No. 2 is a part of the improvements which are under way by the water board. By the laying of a pipe line for the distance of about six miles the waters of Cooper's Lake which now flow from that reservoir to Reservoir No. 2 in an open stream, will be conveyed from one reservoir to the other with much less loss through evaporation and seeping away into the ground and it will also prevent contamination of the city's supply of drinking water. At present the water flows in an open stream through several small hamlets and also the village of Woodstock. The construction of a pipe line will not only make a considerable saving in the water but will eliminate the possible contamination of the water as it flows through the village of Woodstock.

Expect to Get Better Prices. All the bids received having been rejected, the decision of the board to use cast iron pipe will necessitate a new solicitation of bids. Better prices it is believed can thus be secured on the job.

Two Women Reported That Youth Riding on Truck Had Struck Head Against Railroad Bridge and Dropped to Truck Floor—Truck Drove On.

An ordinary grayish cap to which was pinned the large button issued to those obtaining a hunting and fishing license was brought to police headquarters Thursday afternoon by Policeman Peter Camp. The cap had been turned over to the officer by two Jewish women who said that a truck in which three young men were riding had passed through East Union street. Two sat in the cab of the truck, while the third stood in the back of the truck to the rear of the cab.

As the truck was passing under the Ulster & Delaware railroad bridge on East Union street the young man, evidently not seeing or observing the bridge, forgot to duck and was struck in the head. The women say they saw the youth collapse in the truck, but the two others in the cab did not notice anything wrong for they continued on.

The cap worn by the third youth who had been struck fell to the roadway. The number of the truck was not obtained. With the license number on the button attached to the cap the police department ascertained that that series of numbers had been issued in the town of Olive and got in touch with the town clerk at Olive Bridge who looked up his records and said the license had been issued to Isaac Jones, son of Spencer Jones of Shokan.

The police notified the Ulster & Delaware railroad authorities and they made an investigation also. The youth's father was gotten in touch with and reported that his boy had not returned home at that time. Later in the day Mr. Jones called up the police and stated that his son had returned home with a black eye and a bump on his head, evidently inflicted as his head struck the bridge.

Thus was the mystery of the cap solved.

Injured Ankle in Fall. Charles Callapinto while at work on the Terry brickyard Thursday afternoon fell from a brick kiln, injuring his ankle. The city ambulance was summoned and removed the injured man to the Benedictine Hospital.

Short Change Artists Here. It was reported to the police Thursday that another attempt to work the old, familiar 30¢ short change gag was made by an elderly man and a youth at the White Tie Lunch on Railroad avenue but it did not succeed. The two were said to travel in an automobile, and the elderly man represented himself as a well known business man.

Fisher's Ice Supply Exhausted. John A. Fischer, Abel street ice dealer, has disposed of all the ice which was harvested last winter, the last having been sold on Wednesday. Owing to the mild winter he was unable to fill his ice house which accounts for his ice house being empty at this time of the year. While he regrets not being able to supply his customers with ice he hopes that next winter he will be able to fill his house for the next summer.

State Electrocutes Seven Murderers

Four White Men and Three Negroes Pay Death Penalty in Kentucky State Penitentiary Within Hour and a Half—One Confesses After Last Minute Plea for Stay Fails.

Eddyville, Ky., July 13 (P).—Seven men, convicted murderers all, were electrocuted between midnight and 1:30 o'clock this morning at the state penitentiary here.

Seven wooden coffins today were placed on trestles near the prison gates awaiting disposition of relatives of the executed ones whose bodies in death house garments, rested within the uncrushed boxes.

There were four white men, three of them very young, and three negroes who took their way in the death house. The condemned men were reduced by fear to a condition bordering upon collapse as midnight approached.

Although there was no clock going to sound the hours, the prisoners sensed the time and all talk died away long before the death march started at 12:15. With heads supported in cupped hands, they sat silent, their bodies shaken by chills despite the intense heat in the squat stone house that had been their home in the prison. In plain view was the execution chamber and the chair.

There was no sombre darkness in the place. Instead, there was brilliant light and shadow and polished steel.

The white men went to the chair first. Milford "Red" Lawson, 35, Corbin, Ky., leading the way. He said he "was ready to forgive everybody" and was strapped in quickly. He was dead three minutes, later. The murder of a neighbor in his mountain county had brought him there.

Confesses After Appeal Fails. Orlando Seymour, 21, Louisville, was the second. A dramatic attempt to obtain a stay for him last night had failed. Shortly after 8 o'clock he told his cell companions that he would at least get out of the prison once more.

But the warden asked that court be held in the chapel and it was, the altar or speaker's stand being used as a judge's bench.

When the judge ruled he had no jurisdiction, Seymour sagged in his chair and did not speak again until the time for his execution when he confessed the murder for which he had been convicted, that of a Louisville merchant.

Hascue Dockery, 21, Harlan, Ky., followed. Originally he had been selected to die first, but, just as the hum of the death chair dynamo filled the cell block, he asked for a priest, explaining that he wished to become a Roman Catholic. He was received into the church. Four hours earlier, Dockery had sneered and flicked the ashes from a cigarette when Warden Chilton read the death warrants. Uttering no word, he dragged slowly into the chair chamber and, as the hood was adjusted, started mumbling prayers. He was charged with slaying two women and a man.

Charles Paul Mitra, 23, St. Louis, Mo., was the fourth. Convicted of the murder of a grocer in Louisville in an attempted holdup, he had been rather disdainful in his attitude toward the guards since the confinement here. He died in three minutes without making any statement.

Negrees Recover Spirits. The negroes, apparently crushed earlier in the night by the weariness and certainty of death, recovered their spirits to a greater degree than the white men before the time of the executions.

William Moore, 45, Louisville, was the first to die. Another leaned back in the chair, waved his hand, saying, "gentlemen, how are you all feeling tonight?" The last was Clarence McQueen, 38, Cynthia, who hummed a song and paid close attention to the manner in which the straps were adjusted.

All day yesterday and last night Governor Flem D. Sampson at Frankfort was swamped with petitions seeking clemency. He reviewed the cases fully but refused to interfere.

NOBLE'S DOG UNAFFECTED BY ARCTIC HARDSHIPS.

Kings Bay, Spitzbergen, July 13 (P).—One survivor of the Italia disaster apparently is unaffected by the awaiting rescue.

Last Survivors of Italia Rescued From Arctic Ice

Russian Ice Breaker Saves Seven of Dirigible's Crew of Sixteen and Now Pounds Through Ice on Further Rescue Work—Rescued Men Suffered From Starvation, Fever and Dwindling Hope of Rescue.

Copyright, 1925, by The Associated Press.

Moscow, July 13 (P).—Spartan on relentlessly in what now appears to be a winning fight against the Arctic, the powerful Russian ice-breaker Krassin has rescued five more of the crew of the ill-fated dirigible Italia and was pounding on today to make further rescues.

Just a few hours after the brilliant rescue of Captains Alberto Maritano and Filippo Zappi, members of the Italia's walking party, the Krassin crashed through the ice floes to reach the Viglieri group which for 48 days had been stranded near Foy Island of Northeast Land.

With seven of the sixteen men of the Italia safely aboard, the Krassin immediately turned its attention to picking up several rescue groups which have become stranded themselves and kept a sharp lookout for the missing group of Captain Roald Amundsen in the hope that the great drama of the Arctic which has been in progress for the past seven weeks might reach its climax in one fell swoop.

Leader of Rescue Expedition Reports. A report of the rescue of the Viglieri group was received in Moscow today from Prof. Samoilovich, leader of the Russian rescue expedition. His report follows:

"Within three miles from the Viglieri group, the Krassin sighted the remnants of an airplane, the abandoned machine of the Swedish flyer, Lieutenant Lundborg, and the red tent of the Italia, from which were coming smoke signals in response to the deafening siren blasts continually sounded from the Krassin."

"The Krassin then drew up close alongside of the ice field which was harboring the victims. I climbed down a ladder lowered from the boat and found myself in the outstretched arms of the rescued men, who embraced and kissed me as they wept tears of joy. They said that throughout they had pinned all hope on the Krassin but did not expect it to come so soon."

"All those rescued and taken aboard were well save Cecconi who has a broken leg, but his condition is not grave."

Moscow Gets Further Details. Further details of the rescue of Maritano and Zappi were received in Moscow today. These men went with joy as they were wrapped in blankets by the rescuing party and carried aboard the Krassin.

For thirteen days they had had nothing to eat and for warmth they had only two blankets left. On sighting Chukhovskiy Tuesday evening Maritano cut big letters from a piece of tarpaulin to form the words: "Food! Help!"

When at length they sighted the Krassin, Zappi feared that the tiny iceberg to which he and his comrade were clinging would be smashed to bits and the two Italians waved their hands frantically to their would-be rescuers to stop.

The Russians, fearing that they would smash the little refuge, stopped about 200 yards away and the crew laid a board bridge from the boat to the iceberg along which the Italians were carried to safety.

Rescued Two, Then Sought Others. After picking Captain Alberto Maritano and Captain Filippo Zappi off a jagged iceberg, the Krassin forged her way through the ice floes to rescue the group commanded by Lieutenant Alfredo Viglieri, navigator, huddled around a small red silk tent on the ice near Foy Island.

The others in this group were Professor P. Behounek, meteorologist; Giuseppe Biagi, radio operator; Filippo Troiano, engineer; and Natale Cecconi, motor chief. There have been unconfirmed rumors that Cecconi, who was in a precarious condition and had a broken leg, had died. These rumors have been denied by those in command of the base ship Citta di Milano which was in radio communication with the survivors. Advice from the Krassin did not clear up his status.

Two others are known to have perished—Dr. Finn Malmgren, meteorologist, who died in an attempt to reach land with Captains Maritano and Zappi, and Vincenzo Pomella, motor attendant. Killed in the crash, six others were thought to be dead, having been carried away in the balloon part of the Italia on May 5.

Ship Saw Other Men Signaling. With the Viglieri group aboard, the Krassin turned to other rescue work. Passing near the scene of the Italia disaster the ship had spotted a number of men signaling. The vessel signaled back that she would pick them up on her return from the camp of the Viglieri group.

Six Months' Coat Greatly in Demand By Jail Prisoners

Inmate of Ulster County Jail is Justly Envious of Owner of Rival to Aladdin's Lamp But It Cannot Yet Compare With Magic Carpet.

Not a coat of many colors but a coat of many sentences is the pride of one of the boarders in the Ulster county jail. It is just a blue serge coat but it holds a special charm when worn by a defendant in the presence of a judge. The owner of the coat was the first one to discover the charm of the coat which has become known among the jail inmates as the "six-months' coat."

The owner was apprehended on a more or less serious charge and on appearing in court before County Judge Joseph M. Fowler received a sentence of six months in the county jail. Maybe he had expected more, but he was given a six months' sentence. Shortly thereafter another unfortunate person who had crossed bats with the law was haled to court. Being a first offender, not only in the fact that he was in trouble with the law but also unfortunate by reason of the fact that he had no coat, he borrowed the blue serge coat. He, too, was given six months in jail.

Then came a third person and he, too, was given the "six months' coat," negotiated with the owner to borrow it when he went up for sentence. He appeared in court attired in the "six months' coat" and was given the customary six months in jail. At the present time there are several defendants in jail who may not deserve a much longer sentence, but at any rate they are negotiating for the use of the "six months' coat" when they face the judge.

The owner of the coat has become convinced that there is some charm to the coat and contends that no matter how trivial a matter the defendant faces he will get the usual six months from the judge if he wears the "six months' coat," and he also believes that no matter how serious the charge, if the defendant is clothed with the garment, he will not get over six months.

Hoover May Hook "Old Mountain"

One Eyed Trout, Reported to Weigh Twenty Pounds, May Not Be Able to Elude Presidential Nominee, Who Is Expert Angler.

Superior, Wis., July 13 (P).—Old Mountain, dean of Brute trout, might do well to keep in the shade of the rocks and watch his food next week, for two prominent citizens will be on the river.

President Coolidge will have competition for merit when Secretary Hoover arrives at Cedar Island Lodge for a two-day visit. The Republican nominee is an experienced angler, and knows the streams and rivers of this region. He has also done a good deal of sea fishing.

The question interesting members of the Presidential party is whether the President or his guest will catch the largest trout. Old Mountain, reputed to weigh twenty pounds, lurks in the rapids of the Brule, south of Cedar Island Lodge, and here the Indian guide, John Laroek, will take them.

Many are the tales old fishermen tell of the huge trout and of battles with him. Old Mountain, in his efforts with anglers, has lost an eye, but it has to be a cleverly hidden hook to fool him. The fight always ends with a disappointed fisherman and a broken line or pole.

In his fishing competition with Secretary Hoover, President Coolidge's retort will find of great use a special tackle box for whose presentation to him, Milwaukee had been made today in connection with the student body and faculty of the Superior Central High School.

The tackle box, bearing the name of Mr. Coolidge engraved on one side, was purchased with the voluntary contributions of the staff and members of the school in whose building the summer executive offices are located.

The thoughts of Superior were, in the meantime, turning more and more upon the reception which Secretary Hoover will be given upon his arrival here Monday. The local Hoover Club and other civic organizations had called further meetings today for the purpose of settling plans.

Phosphate Freight Rates Unchanged

Farmers will not have to pay an additional $2 a ton more for their acid phosphate this year, thanks to the effective protest made by the State Farm Bureau Federation against the railroads' proposal to increase freight rates on this important fertilizer ingredient. It is estimated that such an increase would have cost New York state farmers from $25,000 to $40,000 this year alone.

A hearing on the matter was recently held in New York city by the Truck Line Association. The Farm Bureau Federation was represented at the hearing by E. V. Titus, transportation director of the federation, and Professor E. L. Worthen, widely known soil expert of the State College of Agriculture. The principal question involved was whether acid phosphate was the same thing as a mixed fertilizer, which carries a higher freight rate. Professor Worthen pointed out that acid phosphate is not a mixed fertilizer, but is an ingredient and used mainly to reinforce manure.

Acid phosphate, said Professor Worthen, is one of the essential parts of the New York state fertilizer program. There are thousands of farms in this state where acid phosphate added to farm manure will produce good yields. On these farms its use can be justified under present economic conditions, but mixed fertilizers are prohibitive in price. The increase in the price of acid phosphate would increase the acreage of marginal land, resulting in additional land abandonment. When properly used it is one of the most profitable fertilizer materials for the grain and livestock farmers, resulting in increased yields and increased profit.

Additional facts were presented by both Mr. Titus and Professor Worthen, with the result that the railroads have decided to withdraw their proposal to increase the freight rate on acid phosphate.

HIGHLAND

Highland, July 12—Friday, July 6, was Auxiliary Club day. The heat did not seem to interfere with people going out for over 40 were present and a few guests. Hostesses were Mesdames, Osterhout, Callihan, Dimsey and Miss Dorothy Churchill. Mrs. J. R. Seaman was in charge of devotional exercises and Mrs. Lorin Osterhout presided at the piano for singing. Reports were all satisfactory and everything is going on harmoniously. Any one wishing muffin flour, extracts or gelatin desserts call up Mrs. J. W. Feeter or Mrs. D. H. Kintz and you can be supplied. At this meeting there were some surprises. Mrs. J. K. Fisher presented to the club an oak sideboard; Mrs. Yeomans, 3 dozen drinking glasses; Mrs. Lorin Schantz, covering for shelves in serving room. These were all much needed and thanks of members went out to these people for their thoughtfulness and kindness. At the conclusion of work, ice cream, cake and iced tea were served and pleasure experienced to the hostesses for their hospitality.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Coutant were week-end guests of relatives in Schenectady.

The engagement of G. H. Sutton of Clintonville to a woman of Shelter Island, N. Y., has been sent here. Ida McKinley, Council, D. of A., of this place held its regular business meeting on July 4, it being on the national holiday, the attendance was not large. The next meeting will be July 18 when officers for the ensuing term will be installed by Suzanne L. Decker, deputy state councilor. A "home lunch" will be served. Let all members come out and each one bring something good to eat to add to the lunch.

The Grange has decided not to hold meetings through July. So they will meet in August, of which due notice will be given.

Directors of the Highland Bank held their business session on Tuesday evening, July 3.

Gordon Kurtz of New York city was the guest for the week end of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Kurtz, on Maple avenue.

Mrs. Harold Lent and children have spent some time in New Paltz with Mrs. Lent's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Waring.

Mrs. William Quick of Washington avenue was taken to Vassar Hospital last week. Word comes from there that she is improving nicely. Her friends are glad to report this to all who know her.

Mrs. Byron Lane of Poughkeepsie is now visiting relatives in Lloyd. July 19, a quilting bee was held by women of the Presbyterian Church for their fair to be held in August.

Mr. and Mrs. George P. Muller and family were week end guests at Big Indian, their camp.

Miss Alberta Young, teacher in the school at Katonah, has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Simpson for several days past week.

Miss Ethel Atkins attended the block dance in New Paltz last Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. P. Traver Schantz were in Lakerville, Conn., recently for a day's pleasure.

Mr. and Mrs. Elton Tompkins were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. York in Clintonville.

Mrs. J. F. Wadlin and son, J. F. Wadlin, were in Long Island the past week attending the funeral of Mrs. Wadlin's brother, who resided at New Rochelle.

Dr. and Mrs. Franklyn Welker of New York city have opened up their summer home here and are entertaining guests from New Jersey and New York city.

George DuBois and wife of Long Island have been guests the past week of Mr. and Mrs. Theron DuBois, Mr. and Mrs. Charles DuBois, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wezenaar. They have left for the mountains for the summer.

Colds Cause Time

Albany, July 13 (AP).—Nearly half a century ago, in 1880, the first of the series of reports on the health of the United States was made and largely concerned the health of the people. The first report was given in a result issued by the New York Department of Health. It showed that the average loss of time per year of an electric power company, and that of the three of the six days of the year, was about 100,000,000. It was a record of the loss of time due to sickness and disease.

These records will be kept for several years and will cover the age, race, working conditions and home and community environment of those contracting the disease. It is expected that the records will show the effect of abrupt changes of temperature, smoke and other atmospheric pollutants and overcrowding as causes of pneumonia.

CHILDREN'S HEALTH CAMP FOR WASHINGTON COUNTY

Greenwich, N. Y., July 13 (AP).—Washington county is planning a children's health camp this year, just outside this village.

The American Legion Posts throughout the country are to erect the buildings while table equipment will be supplied by the Greenwich Legion Auxiliary. The Hudson Falls Rotary Club donated $100.

Work already has been started under the direction of Miss Estelle Kennedy, executive secretary of the Washington county tuberculosis and public health committee, and she will have charge of the camp after its opening. Miss Kennedy, for the past six years, has been in charge of various health camps in Madison and Oneida counties.

ASHOKAN.

Ashokan, July 12.—Judge David Windum was the host of two wedding parties Tuesday night. His nieces were given a very loud and boisterous serenade.

Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Davis, Justus North and Spencer Jones visited Kingston Tuesday.

Mrs. Ted North had a narrow escape from drowning while in bathing at Mt. Tremper Sunday.

Clayton Brower is very busy in Grandpa Merrihew's garden these hot days with a new set of garden tools just up from Kingston.

Herman Bose of New York is spending his 25th summer vacation at the Secor cottage.

Mr. and Mrs. Lacey F. Sampson of Glenford Heights send greetings from Paris to their many friends here.

L. E. DuBois, proprietor of the DuBois Corner Garage, on Monday sold and delivered his 26th new car this season.

Miss May Bogart attended the funeral of Con Rosa of Stone Ridge on Wednesday.

Mrs. Augusta Pierson spent a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Newton Smith.

Burton and Virginia Cudney are spending their vacation in Hurley visiting relatives.

Mrs. Beatrice Lawson's two boys are spending some time at the Woodland school and the other son, William, is helping at the DuBois Garage.

Mrs. Quill and daughter, Elsie, of Connecticut are boarding at Mrs. Jane Guinac's.

Mr. and Mrs. Lemuel E. DuBois attended the radio convention in Kingston Wednesday evening.

Details of the revolutionary new "Equisonne" radio circuit, which has been attracting nationwide attention since its first public announcement at the Chicago Radio Show in June, were explained here today for the first time by D. E. DuBois, proprietor of the DuBois Corner Garage.

Mr. DuBois attended the convention of radio men at Kingston Wednesday, at which time the new circuit was presented. Further information concerning the new Equisonne circuit may be had by calling upon Mr. DuBois at his garage.

Resolutions.

The Officers and Board of Directors of the Homeowners' Cooperative Savings and Loan Association of the City of Kingston, N. Y., have learned with sorrow and regret of the death of one of the directors, long associated with us in the care and management of the association. He became a director at the second annual meeting in August, 1891, and served on the appraising committee for a number of years. His thorough knowledge of real estate values and building operations were of great assistance, and his keen interest and untiring devotion to the affairs of the association commanded the admiration and respect of all of us. He was a courteous and agreeable gentleman and by his genial disposition and encouraging habit made friends with all with whom he came in contact. We extend our heartfelt sympathy to their loss to his children and relatives, and direct that this memorial be spread upon the records of this association and a copy thereof be transmitted to the family of our deceased associate.

HENRY W. OTIS.

KINGSTON, N. Y., JULY 13, 1928.

It is the opinion of R. Arthur Wood, president of the Chicago Stock Exchange, that there was never a time when industry and commerce in the Middle West were so stable as they are today. "I believe it can be rightly claimed," he says, "that more people are saving money than has ever before been the case."

What does it cost to own and operate an automobile? The American Motorists' Association, after considerable study, submits these facts: It cost the average motorist last year a dollar a day—$365 for the year.

The figures may be a little less this year. The estimate is based on the average retail price of $953 for a new car and an average life expectancy for the car of seven years. The biggest item is depreciation, a fact which many car owners do not seem to realize. That runs about $136 a year. Operation and maintenance amounted to $229, divided as follows: Fuel and lubricants, $101; repairs and replacements, $88; tires, $40. There doesn't seem to be any allowance for garage expenses. These figures are worth a little study, especially on the part of owners with a small income.

The little island of Fayal, one of the Azores group, has long been a news cable center for the world. Seven different companies land their cables there, and bring them into one building. Everything that can be called news is known in Fayal within a few seconds of occurrence, whether it be a British Derby or an American election. Now a new honor or service seems likely soon to be Fayal's. As ocean flying becomes increasingly important, the Azores loom up as the logical place for an aviation base for transatlantic aircraft. Flying weather in that part of the Atlantic is more reliable than farther north. The distance from the Azores to the United States is comparatively short. Europe is very near. The establishment of an air-drome on Fayal is under consideration. Thus aviation brings a day of new opportunity to places as well as to people.

POPULAR MUSIC.

Summer music used to be chiefly hand organs and the noisy tunes of the merry-go-round, with an occasional band concert in favored places. There are still hand organs, better than ever before. In addition, there are excellent outdoor concerts held in the public parks of many cities and frequently broadcast to the remote, unseen radio audiences.

The experience of the Philharmonic Orchestra of New York, which has recently opened its eleventh season of summer concerts, is particularly interesting because it was a kind of forerunner of the whole summer music movement. At its first summer concert, more than a decade ago, this orchestra played only popular music—chiefly excerpts from light operas and some of the most familiar overtures. After a year or two the conductor began to use more pretentious music. Immediately attendance at the concerts picked up. In time the programs were made up entirely of serious symphonic music, and the attendance had reached an average of 8,000 for a concert. The Beethoven Ninth Symphony brings out a crowd of 12,000 or more.

Apparently people really like music, and the finer music they hear the more they like it. That shouldn't be so surprising, after all. Yet it is one of those obvious facts that seem to require proving.

IS EFFICIENCY FOOLISH?

A newspaper contributor writing of the way in which industrial efficiency seems to create unemployment by reducing waste, standardizing output, etc., says: "It is easier to tear down employment than to build it up. Humans have found that you cannot cut out waste without cutting out work. Brains and capital are now cutting waste and labor faster than new inventions and salesmanship are making and supplying new needs."

We need more daylight fireworks, more seeming waste, not less.

The conclusion is straightforward. The use of time and labor in wasteful effort never did society any good. Individuals may seem to benefit by it, but any such benefit is accidental and transient. Every person engaged in useless work is a loss to society, because the rest of us have to support him. Increased efficiency and less waste in production means more goods and benefits to be passed around, raising the general well-being and thus indirectly or eventually improving the condition of everybody.

Granted, it takes time to readjust workers to new production methods. Better engineering is needed there to prevent the human waste. We should not have idle workers any more than idle machines, making needless overhead expense. But the remedy is not to put people to work inefficiently producing wasteful and silly products or rendering silly services. It is to put them to work producing more useful goods, of which there never can be too many if the right things are provided in the right place at the right time.

THAT BODY OF YOURS

BY James W. Barton, M. D.

(Registered in accordance with the Copyright Act)

THAT DISAGREEABLE WORD.

One of the words that you dislike to hear or see in print is "disease," and yet as Rufus Cole points out, man's first interest in disease undoubtedly arose from a desire for relief.

When he had discomfort or "disease" he thought it was due to some superhuman agency and called on the gods for relief from his discomfort or disease. He wanted to be at ease.

Later he found that certain plants, roots, or barks gave him ease. The priests were the first physicians because they were supposed to get help from the gods with which they gave ease of comfort to the patient. Naturally when it was found that earthly things like plants, roots, barks and berries gave relief, the priests were also the ones who administered them to the patients.

However there had to be the next step, and that was to find out what was causing this disagreeable condition and so they tried to find out all about the formation of the patient's body—physiology, the various processes going on—physiology, and what happened to the body when something went wrong—pathology.

And of course as there were various chemical changes and different degrees of pressure and temperature, the knowledge of chemistry and physics became essential.

To this was added later the knowledge regarding the little organisms, good and bad, that are normally in the body, and others that get into the body from outside. They are bacteria, and so bacteriology became a subject to be mastered.

Now in these later years we are learning about the glands of the body which manufacture juices, and these juices regulate the speed and strength of certain processes in the body, the speed of the heart, the force of muscular action, the growth of bone, the accumulation or non-accumulation of fat and so forth.

These glands are called endocrine glands, and so endocrinology is now a subject studied by medical students.

Thus you can readily see that if an individual is to get ease, and be free from disease, and he places himself under the care of one who has studied the human body from the above standpoints, his chances of securing relief should be all that can humanly be expected.

CHURCH OF COMFORTER

S. S. PICNIC SATURDAY

The annual Sunday school picnic and outing of the Church of the Comforter on Wynkoop Place will be held Saturday afternoon at Forsyth Park. The members and friends of the congregation who desire to assist in giving the children a ride around the Ashokan reservoir are requested to have their automobiles at the church at 2 o'clock that afternoon. Returning from the ride the children will be taken to Forsyth Park where games and a general good time will be had. Those who desire to donate the use of their cars for the outing are requested to get in touch with P. H. Carer, superintendent of the school, at his home, 105 Foxhall avenue.

MISSING GIRL FOUND

ASLEEP IN THE WOODS

Clad in a one-piece bathing suit, scantily covered with ferns and leaves, Gertrude Schwartz, 5, of New York city, was found by State Troop-ers Allen and a posse about 11 o'clock Sunday morning, sleeping beneath a laurel clump in the woods south of the Meyerson boarding house at Kerhonkson. She had left the boarding house with some adults Saturday to go swimming and was ordered to go back. Evidently she became confused and took the wrong path.

TWO INJURED AS CARS COLLIDE AT MARLBOROUGH

A head-on collision in "the loop", a declivity in the state road south of Marlborough, resulted in the injury of two persons and considerable damage to two cars Wednesday evening.

The driver of one car was arrested charged with reckless driving. Neither of the injured, Marion Weinstein of Brooklyn, and Mrs. Charles Borden of Otisville, was seriously hurt. Samuel B. Weinrad of Brooklyn, who is charged with responsibility for the collision, is at liberty on bail pending a hearing before Justice of the Peace Doyle N. Hutchins of Marlborough. Weinrad was driving north and Charles Borden south when the cars met. Both women had their wounds dressed at St. Luke's Hospital in Newburgh.

MILTON COLD STORAGE COMPANY INCORPORATED

A copy of a certificate of incorporation granted by the corporation bureau of the department of state at Albany under the stock corporation law to the Milton Cold Storage Company, Inc., has been filed at the office of the Ulster county clerk. The principal office of business is at Milton. Capital stock, $100,000. Purposes for which corporation has been formed are to grow, raise, cultivate, produce, purchase, sell, market, store, preserve, pack and otherwise deal in any way, storing, freezing, refrigerating, fruit, vegetables, meats, poultry, fish, etc. The directors, who are also the stockholders of record, are Fred W. Vail, Jr., Milton; F. Palmer Hart, Red Hook, Dutchess county; Frank Hill, North Rose, Wayne county.

$25,000 DAMAGE SUIT AS RESULT OF AUTO CRASH.

Leo Shilansky, 16, a New York city boarder at the home of Barney Halpern, near Kerhonkson, will probably lose an eye as the result of a collision between the Halpern car and a car operated by Joseph Ostrov of Kingston last Monday evening. The crash occurred on the Berne road as the Halpern car was driving toward Accord. The cars crashed head-on. Dr. G. F. Harker attended the injured youth, who has instituted suit against Ostrov for $25,000 damages. The youth is a nephew of Halpern.

GOVERNOR RITCHIE TO CONFER WITH SMITH

Baltimore, July 13 (AP).—Governor Albert C. Ritchie, of Maryland, will confer with Governor Alfred E. Smith within the next two weeks on campaign matters, he said today, in making known that he had received a letter from the Democratic presidential nominee expressing the hope that the Maryland executive "would be coming to New York shortly."

Governor Ritchie answered that he would go to New York week after next if that suited Governor Smith's convenience.

MAN FATALITY HURT WHEN HIT BY HEAD OF GAS DRUM

Isadore Kiev, 37, of Newburgh, died Thursday in St. Luke's Hospital, that city, of injuries received Wednesday evening when he was struck by the head of a gasoline drum which had blown out while an attempt was being made to burn a hole in the drum with a gasoline torch. The flying metal shattered Kiev's leg and cut off four fingers of his hand, carrying them to the room of an adjoining building.

Prudential Men on Annual Outing.

The representatives of the Prudential Insurance Company in the Kingston district started Thursday on their annual summer outing and will return so as to be on their jobs on Monday. They went to Atlantic City and the party filled several automobiles.

—Quality Brings You Back

—Inferiority Sets You Back

PEOPLE who start furnishing their homes at this store inevitably finish at the same place!

And from start to finish they find every piece they buy a profitable investment—with interest compounded as the years go by.

Money put into quality furniture is a life-time asset. Money spent for flimsy furniture is a short-time liability!

You can buy only quality furniture here—but at prices so low as to make any other kind unworthy of consideration.

Deferred payments can be arranged if you wish.

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

(By The Associated Press.)
New York.—With light clouds, a few, Amelia Earhart believed women can be as competent pilots as men. A few years ago, she points out, it was an adventure for a woman to run an automobile; now, aside from heavy cars and racing, a woman is as competent a chauffeur as the average, as a man.

Wildwood, N. J.—Golf club spare that fish-bowl, please. Glen Shaver has telegraphed a protest against a plan to banish or execute a bird that, nesting in a tree on the links, has been stealing golf balls. His plea is made in the interests of millions of Americans who have never seen a fish-bowl, and all outdoor lovers.

Newport, R. I.—Adults of the elite are to dress in little children's clothes shortly. There is to be a baby party at the clambake club.

New York.—Claire Luce, once a dancer for Ziegfeld, fought thrills in an airplane and found romance. Learning to be a pilot she met Clifford Warren Smith, member of the New York Yacht Club and aviator. Now they are married.

Barcelona.—Mixed sun baths for men and women in bathing suits are forbidden by the provincial governor; also scant bathing suits.

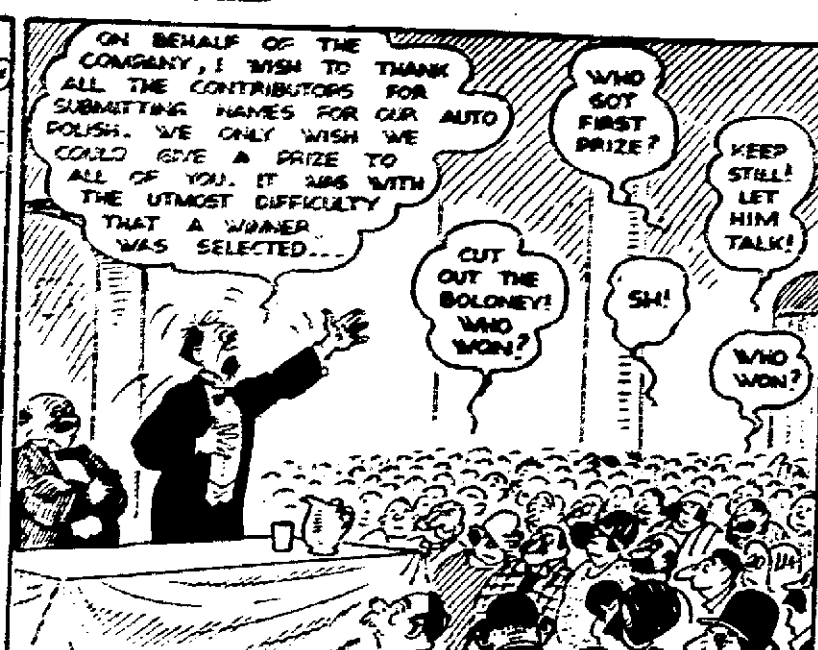

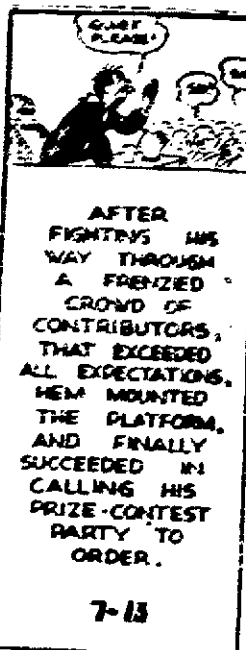

New York.—Courtesy pays. R. F. Thompson, retired banker, had to go to court for speeding 30 miles an hour in his car. He told the judge he was glad to pay the $25 fine because the motorcycle policeman had been so polite. Then he sent a letter of praise to the police commissioner with a check for $25 for the pension fund.

London.—King Alfonso inspected a vault in which $200,000 worth of Spanish wine is stored. "What great fun it must be to be a bootlegger!" he remarked.

San Francisco.—Because his tail is long the White House zoo is to be increased by a kangaroo. Coming from Australia the kangaroo started to jump overboard. An officer just caught hold of the tip of the tail in time. The kangaroo, presented to the trans-Pacific fliers, is to be given by them to the President.

ROSENDALE

Rosendale, July 12.—Miss Helen R. White left on Thursday for her home in Rochester, where she will spend her summer vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Fink, who were guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Olly the past two weeks, returned to their home in Brooklyn on Friday. Mrs. Grace Zugalla and sons, Harry and Earl, of Watervliet, spent a few days the past week with the Misses Carrie and Lois Anderson.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Dewitt and children, Edith and Ernest, spent the Fourth of July with Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Turner at Walden.

Mrs. Harry Lewis and daughters of Poughkeepsie are visiting relatives in this village.

Louis Auchmoody and Sarah Harris are attending summer school at Kingston.

Mr. and Mrs. Bennie Ackerman of West New York spent the Fourth with Mrs. Sylvan Ackerman. His many friends in this village were glad to see him.

Clifford and William Seitz of Astoria, L. I., are spending a part of their vacation with Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Engel, their grandparents.

Mr. and Mrs. Radcliffe Delamater and mother of Gloversville and Mrs. Henry Ten Hagen of Kripplush called on Mrs. Charles Ten Hagen and family on Wednesday afternoon.

Henry Myers' bus took the Sunday school children from All Saints' Church to Dashville Falls on Thursday, where their annual picnic was held.

Harry West and George Mattman are painting the residence of Henry Taylor at Whiteport.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Hildley and children and Miss Fannie Ten Hagen motored around the Ashokan reservoir on Saturday.

Harold Henze who spent the past week with his cousin, Calvin Israel, in New Jersey, returned to his home in this village on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Miller and family of Rosely Park, N. J., were week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harry West.

Miss Catherine Young of New York city is spending the summer with Mr. and Mrs. John Olly in this village.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Hildley and children, John and Frances, of Wyantville, were guests in this place a few days the past week. Mr. Hildley was manager of the Kouski Shirt factory here a few years ago and he and his wife had many friends here who were glad to welcome them back.

Miss Elsie Eder and friend of Westwood, N. J., is spending her vacation with her father, Thomas Eder. She will return to her home on Sunday.

Summer guests are arriving daily in this beautiful village. Nearly every house is filled and many are booked for large crowds in August.

ST. REMY

St. Remy, July 12.—There will be no church service in the Reformed Church next Sunday, July 15. Sunday school at the usual hour, 1:30.

Mrs. Nicholson of New Salem had a combination sink and tub installed by Henry Twale.

Mrs. M. F. Haines has visitors from Stamford, Conn.

Mrs. Harry Ellsworth and daughter, Beatrice, and Mrs. Frank Pokorny spent Tuesday with Mrs. Wallace Terpening at New Salem.

George Tucker and family of Greenbush were in this place the past week.

Don't forget—Picnic and Dance at Maple Hill Inn, Rosendale Road, afternoon and evening by Weiner Hose Company, Sunday, July 15th.—Adv.

Farm-Railroad Conference July 18

The sixth annual farmer-railroad conference, called by the New York State Farm Bureau Federation, will take place July 18 in Rochester, at the Powers Hotel. Officials of all railroads serving New York farmers have been invited to attend and will doubtless have a good delegation on hand to meet with farmer-shippers, of whom over one hundred from different counties are expected to attend.

Farmers ship and have consigned to them a big share of the freight handled by the railroads of this country. In New York state this fact is recognized and customers and carriers get together once a year through the Farm Bureau Federation to talk over their business relations, satisfactory or otherwise.

This year one of the main subjects up for discussion will be the problem of mixed carlot shipments of fruits and vegetables. The railroads' policy of charging shippers on the basis of the highest minimum weight of all products in a car is bringing about an increasing use of trucks for getting crops to market. Twenty years ago most farm shipments went over the rails as a matter of course. Today it is nothing for a farmer to truck several tons of produce to market. It would obviously be to the advantage of railroads to change their present policy, as it would not only increase rail shipments but would probably result in opening up new markets.

Another matter which will be considered is the losses which farmers incur as the result of fire from locomotives.

ESOPUS

Esopus, July 13.—The regular monthly business meeting of the Ladies Aid Society of the M. E. Church at Esopus was held at the home of Mrs. W. Hooper. The ladies have planned to have a clam bake some time in August. The date will be published later. After the meeting refreshments were served by the hostess. A collection of $4.25 was taken.

Salon Body Designs

The new Salon Body design for the new "400" series was developed after extended personal study by Mr. Nash himself of the latest creations by European body artists of international fame.

Original ideas in body artistry were co-ordinated with the most modern developments revealed in foreign and American Salons.

And the Salon Nash design is the perfected result—a new body type of the most modern beauty.

It could fittingly adorn a chassis priced at many thousands of dollars.

Nash invested a fortune in dies and machinery to create it.

But you may avail yourself of it on a line of cars notably moderate in price.

In body design, as in other important features, Nash has again outstripped all competition.

The World has a new and finer motor car—with a radically new and finer type of body.

Merger of Dairy Machine Makers

Cedar Rapids, Iowa, July 13 (AP).—Walter L. Cherry, president of the E. G. Cherry Co., of Cedar Rapids, today announced the merger of that company with six other nationally known manufacturing companies producing dairy machinery and supplies.

The new company will be known as the Cherry-Burrell Corporation, capitalized at $10,000,000. Walter L. Cherry will be president. Executive officers will be maintained here, but Chicago will be headquarters for the sales organization. Companies included in the merger are D. H. Burrell Co., Inc., with factories at Little Falls, N. Y., and Brockville, Ont.; the Milwaukee Dairy Supply Co.; the John L. Ladd Co., of Detroit; the Cherry-Burrell Co., of Baltimore; the Wright-Ziegler Co., of Boston and the A. H. Barber-Goodrich Co., of Chicago. The E. G. Cherry Co., the largest in the group, was organized in 1850. John L. Ladd, Detroit, becomes vice president; E. B. Cameron of Cedar Rapids, treasurer, and A. H. Barber, Chicago, secretary. Loomis Burrell, Little Falls, N. Y., will be chairman of the board of directors.

CAT, COW AND FARMER IN UNUSUAL MIXUP.

Because a barn cat objected to a cow dancing the Black Bottom on its tail, A. E. Hall of Freedom Plains, Dutchess county, is nursing a badly lacerated hand, his cow is nursing a scratched leg and the cat is keeping its tail carefully out of trouble until it regains its natural health. Hall was milking the cow on a recent evening and the cat was attempting to get a thrill by sniffling at the outer side of the milk pail. Flies were numerous and the cow's tail was having a hard time battling them. The cow stamped her hoof impatiently and it landed on the tail of the cat. Indignant at such carelessness, the pussy struck out viciously with its right front paw and raked the offending leg for several inches. With speed unusual in animals of her placid nature the cow attempted to return the compliment with a vicious kick but the cat was gone. In his place, however, was Hall's hand which received the full force of the blow, cutting it badly.

Highland Society Visits Woodstock. Twenty-one members of the Queen Esther Society of Highland enjoyed an outing at Woodstock on Wednesday. At noon they had dinner at the Dickinson camp and the afternoon was spent motoring around Woodstock, including a visit to the artist colony, returning to camp for supper. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. William Dalton and son, Donald; Mrs. Victor Salvatore and sons; Mrs. George Hildebrand, Mrs. William H. Maynard and daughter, Audrey; Mrs. Charles DuBois, Mrs. Harry Wezenaar, Miss Rose Symes, Miss Mattie Schantz, Miss Hattie Dickinson, Mrs. Ralph Lyons, Miss Edith Dickinson, Mrs. Richard Burton, Mrs. Clarence Rathgeb and daughter, Nancy, Mrs. William Corwin and son, Richard, and Mrs. Malcolm Dodge. The party returned to Highland in the evening.

Dance at Stone Ridge Tonight. The regular weekly dance will be held this evening at the Stone Ridge Grange Hall. The dances at this hall have been very successful for the past few years and a large crowd is expected this evening. The people from Kingston who are planning on attending the dance are advised to go by the way of Rosendale. Music will be furnished by Maisehneider's orchestra.

RADIOTIC

LAST NIGHT on the RADIO

Static ruled the radio most Thursday afternoon and evening but let up shortly before 10 o'clock sufficiently to let some good programs through.

JIMMIE CONNOR'S DANCE ORCHESTRA KEEPS BUSY.

Now that they are released for the summer from playing at Reader's Kingston Theatre, Jimmie Connor's orchestra will specialize during the summer as a high class dance orchestra. The orchestra will include eight instruments, violin, bass, two saxophones, piano, cornet, trombone and drums and will on special occasions be augmented by other instruments in what will be known as "Jimmie Connor's dance orchestra." Already this group of young musicians has gained a favorable reputation for furnishing real dance music on the few occasions when it has been possible for them to play outside the theatre. It is the ambition of Mr. Connor and his men to furnish music that will be good music quite as much as it will be something good to dance by and already this orchestra has several dates that are of note. This evening and succeeding Friday evenings during the summer they will play at The Maverick where their gifts as musicians have already been acknowledged. Next Wednesday evening they will furnish orchestral music for the midsummer ball to be given at Catskill Armory under the auspices of the Steuben Society. They are also planning to play for series of dances. The orchestra wears a many colored costume appropriate to summer time.

KINGSTON POST BASKET PICNIC NEXT SUNDAY.

It looks as if the basket picnic of Kingston Post of the American Legion would be a great success next Sunday at Bob Jones's camp in Watson Hollow. The children are getting their bathing suits ready for wading in the mountain stream. Mothers are planning appetizing lunches. Legionnaires are getting the cars greased up. The Boy Scouts are talking about how they are going to camp in pup-tents and sleep on beds of balsam boughs.

Cars will leave the American Legion Memorial Building Sunday morning at 10 o'clock. Those without transportation can probably arrange to ride with some other Legionnaire who owns a car.

Some parties are planning on attending the picnic after dinner on Sunday. They will bring their supper along, or hot dogs to roast over the camp fire.

All Legionnaires and their families are invited to come to this picnic. There will be games for the children, hiking, fishing, fun, sunshine, fresh air and change of scene.

For further information get in touch with Roy E. Jacob, chairman of the Post Activities Committee.

Flatbush Fair and Supper. The Ladies' Aid Society of Flatbush Reformed Church will hold their annual fair and chicken supper on August 22. There will be rugs, hand made quilts and fancy articles on sale at the fair, and their usual good chicken supper at the T. X. T. Club house.

Don't forget—Picnic and Dance at Maple Hill Inn, Rosendale Road, afternoon and evening by Weiner Hose Company, Sunday, July 15.—Adv.

Cooler Kitchens With Ilgair

When cooking, do you keep your doors between the kitchen and the other rooms of the house closed? Of course you do, so as to keep those "cooking odors out."

But how stuffy, smoky and hot the kitchen gets—especially on mid-summer afternoons.

With an Ilgair portable ventilator the fumes go outside and fresh air is constantly pulled in.

DISTINCTIVE FEATURES

- A—Standard Ilgair Kitchen Ventilator with fully enclosed self-cooled motor.
- B—Portable panel, made in 3 sizes, 36", 42", and 48".
- C—Adjustable "hinged flap" closes gap between window sash and panel, allowing upper sash to be raised when fan is not in use.
- D—Upper sash pulled down with flap resting on top.
- E—Speed regulator.
- F—Adjustable hangers holding panel to window frame.
- G—Extension cord with plug for direct connection to electric light socket or outlet.

Hay Fever

Home Treatment

If you want a really effective treatment for Hay or Rose Fever go right to McBride's Drug Stores and ask for a bottle of Opey.

Spray the nostrils two or three times a day—often if necessary.

You'll be surprised and delighted—not only will Opey soothe and heal the raw inflamed membrane, but it will promptly stop the humiliating discharge. If it fails, get your money back.

The price is but $1.00 and McBride's Drug Stores will gladly tell you all about it.

Launch Drive Against Thieves

Farm Bureau Vigilance Service to Launch Drive Against Taking Motorists During Week of July 23-August 1.

During the week of July 23-August 1, the State Farm Bureau Federation will make a special drive to assist city people with the fact that it has established a Vigilance Service to protect farmers in this state from petty thievery of farm produce by city motorists. Information about the way the service operates will be spread through the press by means of radio talks. The list of city luncheon clubs, boards of commerce, and other city organizations will be enlisted also. That farmers do suffer heavy losses from the careless and unthinking motorists is a well established fact, particularly in fruit and vegetable growing regions. Just as soon as fruit trees put forth their blossoms in the spring, the stealing begins and continues until the end of harvest time. Cherries, strawberries, raspberries, cucumbers, snap peas, asparagus, corn, apples, pumpkins, squash, chickens, flowers, and in fact anything portable, find their way into automobiles and are carted away with never so much as a thank-you, or by-your-leave.

The Vigilance Service, organized about two years ago by the Federation, works in cooperation with state police and local constabularies. Rewards of from $10 to $25 are paid for information leading to the arrest and conviction of thieves caught stealing on farms posted with Vigilance Service signs. During the first year of the operation of the service, actual police records showed that it had been instrumental in recovering $11,449 worth of stolen property to rightful owners.

PRATT FAMILY START ON EXTENDED MOTOR TRIP

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Pratt and daughter, Josephine, Mrs. Harcourt J. Pratt, Dr. Joseph Preston of Highland and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Clarke and their sons of Milton left on Thursday on a two months' motor trip to the west. The two cars will follow a direct route to Colorado Springs. Several days will be spent there before going on to Estes Park. In Estes Park there will be a reunion of the Hasbrouck families. Relatives from Idaho, Washington, Wyoming, Colorado, Ohio, California and New York will attend.

The New York party will then go to Cheyenne, Wyoming, to see the famous rodeo, known as "Frontier Days From Cheyenne." They will go to Gopher and take the new southern entrance into Yellowstone National Park. They will spend a week or ten days in the Park, leaving at Cody, then going to the Black Hills. The party will return home September.

Mrs. Walter Batts and little daughters of Jackson Heights, L. I., will spend the summer with her father, Harcourt J. Pratt, while her mother is away.

Chinese Market Day

Market day in China usually affords many quaint sights to the foreigner. As the country is one largely devoid of vehicles, the commodities to be offered for sale were carried to the market places in many odd ways; by wheelbarrow, on manback, poised on the heads of women, or swung to a pole borne on the shoulders of two carriers.

Clean little hands.

Mother: "Oh, dear, you're letting the sawdust run out of your new doll."
Mary: "Oh, it's all right, mummy. I'm helping her reduce so she'll be fashionable."

This would be an exceedingly dull world if everybody agreed with you.

He Got It.
Our office boy wanted a raise. He went to his boss and asked for $2 a week. "Do you think you are worth it?" he was asked.

"I do," was the reply. "I've been thinking so for three weeks but have been so 'durn busy' that I didn't have time to say so."

The former restaurant waiter gets a job as clerk in a men's clothing store.

Clerk: Yes, sir, here's the menu for today. We have felt hats hot off the press, nice new overcoats, green socks, fresh shirts, beautiful ripe red ties, and some nice tasty underwear just picked by us from a large assortment. Our belts are guaranteed to tickle the stomach and our spring suits aren't hard to take. Our new blown handkerchiefs are plenty hot too.

Customer: "I'll take some collars, a belt, some handkerchiefs, and one of those red ties."

Clerk: Yes, sir (shouting to back of store). Bring in some neck chokers, kill an alligator, tear up some sheets, and pull down a red rope.

Betrayed.
The other night, I went to the theatre With a low-brow friend. And the orchestra played "The Little Brown Jug". And he thought It was the national anthem And stood up.

And I did too, Darn him!

Teacher: "Now, Mollie, can you tell me the name of a well-known creature that supplies us with food and clothing?"
Mollie (thoughtfully): "My dad."

A Corn Story.
A man once gave me some seed corn to try. It sure was SOME corn. I and the hired man started on a 10-acre field to plant. The hired man was harrowing and I was planting. When he finished harrowing two hours ahead of me the corn I had planted had already grown so fast that he got a wazon and began husking. It made 1,000 bushels to the acre. The stalks were so large that I leased the field to a lumber company and they spent three years cutting the stalks up into saw logs.

Winston & Co. Get Albany Contract

Ashokan Dam Builders to Build Alakoo Dam, Second Project in City's New Water Supply System, to Cost Nearly Three-Quarters of Million Dollars.

The contract for construction of the Alakoo dam, second project in the city's new water supply system, was awarded by the board of water supply to Winston & Company, Kingston, the low bidder, for $747,449.25, subject to the approval of the board of estimate and appropriation.

Nelle F. Towner, president of the water board, announced that work on the contract will start within ten days after its approval by the board of estimate.

Officials of Winston & Company have been informed of the award and notified to appear in Albany for the signing of the papers and the posting of the bond for the full amount of the contract, which is one of the largest ever to be let by the city of Albany. It is expected the necessary documents will be completed in time for the board of estimate to act on the matter Monday.

To Be Ready Dec. 1, 1929.

The contract specifies that by December 1, 1929, the dam must be completed and ready to store water. The project is to be completed in 1929.

Winston & Company built the Alakoo dam for the New York city water supply and is therefore a well-known and experienced firm in this kind of construction work.

The Alakoo dam will impound the waters of Hammonds creek in a reservoir of nearly 12,000,000 gallons capacity. In addition to the normal flow of water in the creek, the reservoir will store water from the Alakoo creek, which will be dug away from the creek through the hills and will empty into a small creek flowing into Hammonds creek. Bids for the tunnel project will be opened July 20.

Work on the first water supply contract, for construction of the Alakoo dam, is now progressing rapidly after considerable delay due to rainy weather in June, according to Henry Dumas, the contractor. Twenty men are now at work on this job, and more will be added next week. Mr. Dumas said he expects to complete the contract in November.

The spillway excavation will be completed this week. Mr. Dumas said, "I had we will start building the concrete retaining walls for the spillway next week. These walls will be about twenty-five feet high and about 150 feet long."

As soon as the spillway excavation is done we will start the excavation for the dam corewall. This will be ten feet deep. Within a month we expect to start pouring concrete for the corewall, which will be 672 feet long.

Annoying Static

Static is a natural atmospheric interference. It is caused by stray natural electrical discharges traveling through the same medium. It is difficult to tune it out of the way. It is more prevalent by day than by night and far more troublesome in summer than in winter.

Permit Required For Wild Animals

Albany, N. Y., July 13 (AP).—The recent dispute over a fawn presented by the New York State Conservation Department to Governor Alfred E. Smith, Democratic Presidential nominee, has called forth a warning from the department against keeping wild animals without permits.

The fawn was found by a hotel keeper at Indian Lake. As he had no permit to keep it, the animal was taken over by the Conservation Department and placed in the governor's private zoo. Later the hotel proprietor claimed the animal was a pet belonging to his crippled son, and the governor declared the fawn would be returned as soon as a permit was issued by the Conservation Department.

According to Herbert F. Prescott, secretary of the department, the practice of keeping young animals found in the woods of the Adirondacks has become quite prevalent. Particularly is this true in the case of fawns which are left alone by their mothers for hours at a time. In some cases, persons finding them believe they are lost and that it is really a kindness to give them a home. As a matter of fact the mothers always return to the young animals, although sometimes not before the next day.

Bear cubs also are great favorites among the residents of the Adirondacks, and make splendid playmates and pets while they are still young. Mr. Prescott, however, pointed out that both bear cubs and fawns almost invariably become disagreeable and often even vicious when they are kept in captivity under improper conditions. Records in the files of the department tell of innumerable cases where it has been necessary to kill such pets after they have grown to maturity and become a menace to the community.

It is against the law to keep such animals except under a permit from the Conservation Department. Such permits are issued only to those who have a large area in which to keep the animals.

There's life and gayety and chic in Arch Preserver Shoes

LET THEM BRIGHTEN YOUR SUMMER VACATION

STEP out buoyantly every morning in stunning Arch Preserver Shoes, and the day will know no end to your happy activity.

Fashion-wise women choose Arch Preserver Shoes for every hour of the day because they are the only shoes that match the mode for smartness, yet give you these exclusive hidden comfort features that keep your feet feeling as good as they look:

A concealed, built-in arch bridge, of patented size and shape, that takes all strain off the long arch of the foot and promotes an easy, graceful carriage.

A specially modeled sole that supports the metatarsal arch.

A flat inner sole, crosswise, that prevents pinching or derangement of sensitive foot nerves, muscles and blood-vessels, thereby eliminating a common cause of nervous fatigue.

An exclusive method of fitting that models the shoe correctly to the high smooth curve of your arch and instep, and gives you the same comfort as if your foot were unclad.

Whether you're walking or dancing, outdoors or in, there's no hour of the day that hasn't its Paris-inspired Arch Preserver Shoe to make the occasion more perfect.

Let us show you some of the latest styles, just arrived.

Dame Fashion Smiles

By Grace Jewett Austin

Grace J. Austin

Dame Fashion took a great fancy the other day to the modern fish-globe. You know the most attractive things in the world are said to be "something to eat and something in motion." These new fish-globes are so decorated out that both their shape is artistic and there is a great deal of oxygen space for the fish benefit. Also the old fear of their being knocked over by a careless hand does not seem to exist so much, for they are placed in wrought iron standards, toned with gold and blue or green, and warranted to harmonize with the furnishings of any sun parlor. The golden fish themselves will be glad to furnish the "something in motion."

Then, of course, Dame Fashion had to look at some fish, and what a marvelous time she had! She was right among 400 or 500 of them, and learning something new every minute, though in years past she was a veteran gold-fish keeper. What amazed her most was to hear of the greatly increased demand for them in recent years; sometimes 150 or 200 going to new homes in one day from this rather small shop; many of these for fashionable outdoor pools and rock gardens.

But after Dame Fashion had looked at golden fish, large, small and medium, both of the common variety and of those with elaborately divided tails—like any good fashion person, she turned her attention to the tritons. There was feathery green mossy stuff, there were round-bellied water hyacinths that may bloom in royal purple, like King Solomon; the immense and grizzly tadpoles, meditating on soon becoming frogs; the snails, both brown and red, cheerfully turning themselves completely inside out so to be faithful garbage men, and last but by no means least, the geographical turtles.

Now these turtles are quite the aristocrats of the show. Their shell is in one of the season's most fashionable greens, combined with a sunny yellow, nearly a "boney beige." They are about as large as a silver dollar, and are more handsome than most of the costume brooches. "But where does the brooch come in, Dame Fashion?" With all their golden underbellies and their mysterious markings. No two are alike, and to the amateur in costume written speech, they have every appearance of Chinese characters.

"Were these marks made in China?" You may declare they were, if you want to, when you have furnished your sun parlor with oriental draperies, wicker or other furniture, and plenty of lacquer articles in red and black, just to set off that little green geographical turtle, as he in turn keeps company with the golden Japanese fish, who will give the place just its last needed touch to express Japanese.

ELEANOR GUNN ON FASHIONS

IF THE HANDBAG IS NOT IN HARMONY WITH THE COSTUME, IT COUNTS FOR NAUGHT

New York.—A handbag may be in itself a thing of beauty, and it may also be smart, but when it is unrelated to the costume with which it is carried, it misses out on the main reason for its existence.

The season, like the seasons immediately preceding it, is developing a mania for related costumes. Everything must be related to everything else worn or carried at the same time. By means of color, fabric, design, does this relationship exist and who befall the woman who fails to link up her costume and accessories, for she will be as nothing, no matter how well chosen each and everything about her may be, if they are not linked by the bonds heretofore mentioned. A recent letter from Paris makes the clever observation that an ensemble is no longer a matching coat and dress, but extends even to the harmony existing between vanity case, cigarette case and lighter. Here are some of the approved handbag silhouettes, and it comes as a welcome message that box calf, that most durable of all leather, will be highlighted for fall. Interest is manifested also in woolen and other fabric bags, which match the costume, of course.

Still thinking in terms of summer, there are pique bags in white and pastel shade that may be linked up with the summer costume, by means of hat, shoes, belt, scarf, or parasol. There are also a number of straw handbags, so that one may match them with the straw hats seen in such abundance this season, but it must be admitted that such bags have not developed beyond the novelty stage.

HOW COCKROACHES CAN BE CONTROLLED

It may surprise many people to learn that the cockroach has one redeeming trait. According to entomologists of the United States Department of Agriculture, this common and offensive house pest will prey on that other disgusting insect, the bedbug.
It is not recommended, however, that cockroaches be kept for eradicating the bedbug. There are other more approved methods for exterminating that insect.
The nuisance of roaches in offices and in living rooms of houses can be reduced, if not removed entirely, by elimination of all attractive substances, according to Farmers' Bulletin 658-F, "Cockroaches." If care is taken to keep food from living rooms, offices, desk drawers, and no attractive odors of food are permitted to remain, the roach nuisance can be restricted largely to places where it is necessary for food to be kept. In such places the storage of food material in insect-proof containers or in boxes, together with thorough-going cleanliness, will go a long way toward preventing serious annoyance.
Roaches may be controlled by the use of poisons and repellents, fumigants, and traps. One of the most effective and simple means of ridding premises of the pests is by the use of commercial sodium fluoride, a powder easily obtainable. It may be used in the pure form or diluted one-half with some inert substance such as powdered gypsum or flour. With a dust gun or blower the sodium fluoride can be thoroughly dusted about the runways and hiding places of the roaches. The immediate effect is to cause these insects to rush out of their hiding places and run about more or less blindly, showing evidence of discomfort, to be followed in the course of a few hours by their death. The dust acts both as a stomach poison and as a contact poison.
A copy of the bulletin, describing a number of other methods of reducing or eradicating the nuisance, may be obtained from the United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

Electric Safeguard

A fuse is a device designed to safeguard a wiring system and the lamps and appliances attached to it against an excessive amount of current. Its essential feature is a link of metal which melts at a comparatively low degree of heat. When excessive current passes through a wire, it becomes hot. The fuse as well as the wire is a part of the circuit and carries the current. If more current than the circuit is designed to transmit attempts to pass the fuse, the metal link is heated and melts, thus breaking the circuit and stopping the flow of current.

Ocean Swell

There is a long, smooth swell occurring along coasts where the ocean bed is not far below the surface for a long distance from the land. This is known as a land swell, and, though frequently noted in fair weather, it is due to deep-water disturbances from high winds.

Remarkable Flight

A homing pigeon bearing the name of Ben Bolt was announced as having established a new long-distance flight record of 2,200 miles extending from Norwalk, Ohio, to Los Angeles, Calif. The bird made the trip in five days nine hours and thirty-one minutes.

Another Step In Television

Development of New Light Television Apparatus Marks Removal From Laboratory and Transmission of Larger Picture.

New York, July 13 (AP)—Tele- vision has come out of the laboratory and into the sunlight.

On the roof of the Bell Telephone Company skyscraper along the Hudson river a man served a tennis ball, while three floors below a little group sat in a darkened room and saw the action in every detail on a screen about two inches by three.

It was a demonstration of the new sunlight television apparatus and not only marked the removal of television from the laboratory but marked the first time that more than the head and shoulders of a subject were transmitted.

One of the engineers of the Bell Laboratories said the apparatus could be taken to the Yale bowl, Niagara Falls or the Yankee Stadium, and the scene picked up for broadcast.

"This does not mean that television will be ready for use in every home equipped with a radio set tomorrow," he said. "It is merely a step forward."

"The equipment is too elaborate for home use. It requires experts to operate the instruments although part of the receiving station is an ordinary radio receiving set. We hope to make the picture larger. We hope to have television so that it can be used in a living room without having it darkened. Perhaps someday we will flash the images on a screen like the movies but when that will be we cannot say."

An improved photograph will be more sensitive than those used heretofore in television work, images of artificial light, so strong that it was inadvisable for the subjects, had to be used to make the image visible.

Bell engineers believe that eventually the improved apparatus can operate with Klieg lights such as are used in motion pictures.

The television images in the test were as clear as the average motion picture, and by an apparatus of being under a thin sheet of water, which showed upward across the picture. Engineers believe this device can be eliminated by an increase in the number of holes in the diaphragm through which the television rays pass, or an adjustment of the picture.

The equipment used for taking the picture looked like the ordinary camera setup. A long tube protruded from a rubber blanket and was focused and adjusted to follow the subject in the same manner as a camera. Behind the lens was a diaphragm with fifty tiny holes along the diaphragm through which the light rays passed to give rise to the electrical impulses which were transmitted to the screen, and there changed back into light again and shown on the screen.

The new equipment was developed by Dr. Frank Gray and Dr. Herbert E. Ives of the Bell Laboratories.

MAVERICK CONCERT FOR SUNDAY AFTERNOON.

For the regular Sunday concert at the Maverick Hall, Woodstock, on July 15, a string quartet has been announced. Pierre Hearnote, and Gerald Kunz will play violin, Henri Michaux, viola, and Horace Britti, cello. These musicians are headliners when they appear on Metropolitan platforms and in the chamber music given at the Maverick colony they delight their audiences. For the coming Sunday concert the program includes Haydn and Debussy. Aside from artists, musicians and other celebrities at the art colony, these concerts are proving popular for music lovers of Kingston and surrounding towns.

Promise to Resurface Road.

Commencing about August first, the Palenville-Haines Falls road will be resurfaced if promises made by the Highways Department to Supervisor J. Frank Lackey of the town of Hunter are carried out. For some time this road has been in poor condition and efforts of the Greene county officials to have it repaired have at last been rewarded. Heavy summer traffic and the steep grade up the mountain makes it a hard piece of road to keep in smooth condition. A corrugated concrete surface is being considered.

Dancing at Lake Katrine Inn, Sunday night. Music by Maisonholder's orchestra.

Hope of Finding Others Renewed

Kingston, July 12 (AP).—Hope for the party of six men carried off in the dirigible Italia on July 25 and since given up for lost, has been revived by reports reaching here indicating that the location of the group is known.

General Umberto Nobile, now at Bay, has sent a message to the rescue ship Krassin stating that the group referred to as the "Alaskan" party was not far from the west coast of the Krassin.

indicated that the men were at 59.45 north latitude and 29.31 east longitude. This would place them northeast of Form Island, near which the Vigliani group was rescued.

With these reports, which were not confirmed, came a revival in Moscow of belief that Roald Amundsen, the missing Norwegian explorer, was likely to have joined this group in his flight from Norway to rescue the stranded men. This theory was first advanced by Fridtjof Nansen, another noted Norwegian explorer.

Carranza Flying Back to Mexico

New York, July 12 (AP).—Heading southward towards a city which eagerly awaited him as its favorite son, Captain Emilio Carranza, Mexican's good will died, presumably was well on his way today on his 2,400 mile non-stop flight from New York to Mexico City.

The Captain arrived in the United States nearly a month ago on an attempted non-stop flight from the Mexican capital to Washington in return for Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh's flight to that country. Captain Carranza, however, was forced down in North Carolina.

His take-off from Roosevelt Field at 7:15 o'clock last night was made between thunder showers that had left the field somewhat soggy. It was a secret start, and only three mechanics were on the field when he left. Only a short time before the take-off he had announced he would postpone his flight until the weather cleared.

But just before he climbed into the plane he said the postponement had been only a matter of precaution to clear the field of spectators who might have wandered into the path of the machine as it started down the runway.

His ship took the air easily with 350 gallons of fuel aboard, circled the field once or twice and headed south. The pilot had said he would fly to Washington and steer a compass course from there to his destination.

He expected to complete the flight in 27 hours, which would bring him to Mexico City after nightfall, but he had no fear of night flying over Mexico, since the territory is familiar to him.

Dispatches from the Mexican capital said the populace there greeted the news of his start with joyful demonstrations and that preparations were begun immediately for an elaborate reception.

Creek Overflows, Flooding Mine

St. Clairsville, Ohio, July 12 (AP).—Seven hundred men working at the Webb mine, 18 miles south of here, were out of employment today and damage estimated at $500,000 was caused when the Wegee Creek, laden with waters of heavy rains, overflowed and flooded the valley last night.

The Webb mine was flooded, damaging much of the property and sweeping thirty loaded mine cars before it. A picket camp established near the edge of the mine properties was destroyed and the occupants forced to flee.

Ten railroad bridges were reported swept away.

One man was drowned, several others injured, railroad and highway traffic obstructed, rivers swollen and much property damage done by torrential rains. Lightning struck several buildings.

Traffic was suspended on the Cleveland and Pittsburgh division of the Pennsylvania railroad and the Wheeling and Lake Erie railroad on account of washouts. The Pennsylvania was able to resume operations last night but not the Wheeling and Lake Erie.

The rain reached the proportions of a cloudburst over an area seven miles long and five miles wide.

THREE MORE DEATHS FROM SEPTIC THROAT.

Boston, July 12 (AP).—Three more deaths from the epidemic of septic throat in Lee were reported today to Dr. George H. Bigelow, state health commissioner. This brings the total to 19. Five new cases were reported yesterday and one so far today.

Dr. Bigelow said a rigorous investigation was being conducted to determine whether the new cases were due to personal contact or to a failure to comply with the regulation that all milk be either pasteurized or boiled.

The commissioner was informed that fifty nurses arrived in Lee today.

SHOT TO DEATH AT WHEEL OF HIS AUTOMOBILE

Detroit, July 12 (AP).—Joseph Tallman, 29, was shot and killed at the wheel of his automobile early today in what police believe was the outcome of a liquor feud.

Tallman was killed by a hail of bullets from guns fired by four men in another car, his companions, Harvey Smith and Max Wester, told police.

Tallman, according to police, had supplied Detroit-made beer to a large section of the east side and had been arrested eight times since 1923 although he was never convicted.

Sparton Radio Dealer Party

William Davis Hawk sponsors Second Annual Dealer Party at Golden Rule Inn, Attended by Seventy-five Sparton Dealers Throughout Hudson Valley.

The second annual Sparton Radio Dealer Party sponsored by William Davis Hawk, wholesale distributor for the Sparton Equasone Radio, was held at Golden Rule Inn, Mirror Lake, Ulster Park, on Wednesday, July 11.

Approximately seventy-five Sparton radio dealers from cities and towns throughout the Hudson Valley and adjacent territories were present. Many of the dealers brought their wives along to enjoy a special matinee theatre party at the Broadway Theatre in Kingston. Upon the ladies' return to Golden Rule Inn, they enjoyed the many forms of outdoor diversion available until time for dinner.

The business session for the dealers started at 2:15. There were present from the Sparks Withington Company, makers of the now famous Sparton Equasone Radio, Earl Brower, radio sales manager; G. L. Goodsell, district sales manager; H. E. Troupe, service engineer, and J. A. Jones, laboratory engineer, who has been closely associated with the "Equasone" circuit.

The principal event of the afternoon was the presentation of the various models which make up this year's line of the Sparton Equasone Radios. The pavilion where the dealer conference was held was decorated in the familiar Sparton colors, red and gold, and a special stage was constructed on which the various models in the Sparton line were attractively displayed.

There was a short address of welcome by Mr. Hawk which was followed by talks by Mr. Brower, Mr. Goodsell, Mr. Troupe and Mr. Jones, covering the various phases of the Equasone circuit and the merchandising plans for 1928 and 1929. As the meeting progressed, the enthusiasm of the dealers present became more and more apparent, as they realized the full significance of the new Equasone circuit and its bearing on the radio industry in general. The business session closed with an open forum about five o'clock.

Dinner was served to all guests including members of the Hawk organization and their friends, at the Inn. Dinner music was furnished by the Eight Columbia Collegians. This feature together with songs under the leadership of Paul Zucca helped make the dinner a merry one. After the dinner several of the ladies and gentlemen present were presented with prizes in the form of useful household appliances. "Those Three Boys" furnished entertainment for the guests, including classical songs and novelty numbers, and the balance of the evening was spent in dancing.

NOVENA IN HONOR OF ST. ANN AT SAWKILL.

On Wednesday, July 11, a novena in honor of St. Ann will begin in St. Ann's Church, Sawkill. Patrons of St. Ann in various parts of the world, particularly at the famous shrines in Quebec, Canada, and East 76th street, New York, claim that they have received many temporal and spiritual favors through her intercession. Many physical and mental cures are vouchered for and signed as genuine by distinguished physicians. The pastor of Sawkill, Father Haford, was fortunate in securing a first class relic of St. Ann while in Rome last October. This relic will be applied after the devotions each evening of the novena to anyone regardless of their religious persuasion.

CHAIRMAN WORK NAMES NOTIFICATION COMMITTEES.

Washington, July 12 (AP).—Committees were named today by Chairman Work of the Republican national committee to arrange for the notification ceremonies of Secretary Hoover and Senator Curtis. Senator Moses of New Hampshire was made chairman of the presidential notification committee and Senator Fess of Ohio was appointed as head of the committee to notify the vice presidential nominees. The members are all national committee-men.

The two notification committees will confer with local committees at Palo Alto, Cal., and Topeka, Kansas, where the notifications are to be made on August 11 and 12.

FLAG NOW FLIES FROM TOP OF CITY HALL TOWER.

For the first time since the city hall was swept by fire in June of 1927, the American flag is flying from the reconstructed tower of the building. It was hoisted about noon today as the new steel beams to support the roof of the reconstructed tower were positioned.

Four Killed in Airplane Crash

Croydon, England, July 13 (AP).—Two women and two men were killed in the crash of an airplane at Purley today. One of the men was A. Hull, aeronautical inspection director of the Croydon Airfield.

The pilot was badly injured and sent to the hospital, while another passenger escaped with slight hurts. The plane was seen to dive and then recover slightly. It dived again and crashed in flames. Desperate efforts to get the victims free were unavailing because of the flames.

OPTION ON CATSKILL STORES

J. J. Newberry & Company, who operate a chain of stores, one being located on Wall street in this city, have taken an option on C. Beardsley & Son on three buildings on Main street, Catskill. The option was procured through Frank Forman of Kingston, who does considerable business for Newberry & Company in securing new places for business, says the Catskill Mail. The option was turned over to Newberry & Company and plans are being made for remodeling the stores and apartments overhead. The purchaser will spend approximately $40,000 in the work.

Financial and Commercial

New York, July 13 (AP).—The stock market displayed a complete reversal of form today, selling off sharply at the opening on the raising of the New York Federal Reserve rediscount rate, and then rallying briskly in response to a lowering of call money rates. Trading showed a marked reduction in volume, total sales in the first three hours running only around 1 1/2 million shares.

Call money renewed at 7 1/2 per cent and then dropped to 7 as a plentiful supply of funds flowed in from all sections of the country. So great was the supply of loanable funds in the afternoon that loans were arranged in the "outside market" as low as 6 1/2 per cent, and the official rate was lowered to that figure. Time money and commercial paper rates held firm.

The day's trade news was largely favorable. Reports of lower steel prices from the Chicago district were offset by an increase in 4-inch pipe prices. Directors of the Allis-Chalmers Company raised the annual dividend from $6 to $7. U. S. Rubber Common was heavily bought on rumors of a merger with Goodrich, but these were denied by officials of the latter company. Crude rubber consumption in June broke all records.

Dupont broke 5 points to 35 1/2 in the early trading and then rallied and snapped back to 43 1/2. Radio 6-11 1/2 to 16 1/2 and rebounded to 16 1/2. General Motors rallied from an early low of 18 1/2 to 18 3/4 and Curtiss Aeroplane from 9 1/4 to 10 1/4.

Indian Refining Preferred rallied 10 points above yesterday's close, Texas & Pacific 1, and National Tea 6. Case Threshing, Allis-Chalmers, General Electric, Davison Chemical, Montgomery-Ward, Allied Chemical and Advance Rumely Preferred sold up to 5 points higher.

Quotations given by Parker McElroy & Co., members N. Y. Stock Exchange, 120 Broadway, New York city, branch office, 260 Fair street.

Market for Fruits And Vegetables

New York, July 13 (AP).—(State Department of Agriculture and Markets).—Celery was in moderate receipt from Orange county, N. Y. today. Fancy, large offerings either in the rough or bunch now a moderate outlet at about unchanged prices. Ordinary quality and small stock received scant attention and values on that kind tended lower. Sales on bunches of one dozen stalks were at 25c-31.25. Stock in the rough, packed in two-thirds crates, realized $5-6 for the best, and $2-4 for off-grade.

Supplies of up-state New York lettuce were liberal. A large percentage arrived late. The market was weaker and prices declined slightly. Cries of 24 heads of big Boston peddled out principally at $1.50-2, occasionally as high as $2.25, and as low as 50c.

Increased receipts of green peas from this state resulted in a slight price slump. Demand was confined to fancy, large peas. Few offerings of that kind, however, were to be found. Wholesale business on Erie county peas ranged from 75c-1.50 per bushel basket. Madison county consignments peddled out at 75c-1.75, mainly $1-1.50.

Romaine was in moderate supply from all sections of the state. Most of it was small and otherwise not very desirable. Sales were reported from 25c-1.25 per crate.

The short supply of Catskill Mountain cauliflower met a prompt outlet. The best commanded $5.50 per crate. The poorest worked out $2 at $2.

Arrivals of Hudson Valley mushrooms were moderate. Trading was fairly good and prices higher. Jobbing business on three-pound baskets of white mushrooms was at $2.25-2.50.

MEDALS OF VALOR FOR RAILROAD EMPLOYEES.

Eleven heroic employees of the New York Central Lines including one woman who risked their lives to save others in the performance of duty, were awarded Medals of Valor by President P. E. Crowley, acting for the railroad company, in the board of directors room in the company's headquarters at 466 Lexington avenue, New York city, this morning at 11 o'clock.

One of the men to be honored was James Ferrier, deckhand on New York Central tug No. 34, who on June 13, 1927, jumped into the North River, New York city, and saved a ferryboat passenger from drowning.

The lone woman to be honored was Miss Jessie C. Knight, a stenographer on the Big Four, who on July 27, 1927, at Mattoon, Ill., when on her way home from work, saved the lives of three little girls menaced by an oncoming train which they did not see. Miss Knight, had passed the crossing when three of four little girls started back across the main line without observing the approaching train. A scream from an onlooker apprised her of their danger and she rushed back and barely had time to snatch the children out of danger before the train passed.

This was the second annual award of Valor Medals by the railroad system, the first having been made last October when fifteen men received the awards, which also carry with them a lapel button for daily wear and a certificate attesting to the character and time of the act recognized. President Crowley made the presentations personally in the presence of A. H. Harris, chairman of the executive committee of the board of directors, other directors and the principal officers of the railroad system.

ALBANY BASEBALL POOL.

New York, July 13 (AP).—The Albany baseball pool has been succeeded by a New York organization working through the same agents, federal investigators said today. The Albany pool was abandoned while under federal prosecution.

The investigators said that similar tickets were being used for the New York pool and that many of the Albany agents were employed.

Local Death Record

Mrs. Daniel E. Hoornbeek, a former Ellenville resident, died on July 4, at the Sibley Hospital in Washington, D. C., aged 89 years.

A first anniversary Mass will be offered for the repose of the soul of the late George W. Gadd at St. Joseph's Church Monday morning at 7 o'clock.

Helena Elizabeth Anderson, wife of James Van Vleet, died this morning at her home in Wawarsing, aged 75 years. Funeral from the late residence on Sunday afternoon, at 2 o'clock, standard time. Interment at Wawarsing.

Leon Schumantoff, a former Ellenville resident, died suddenly at Short Beach, L. I., on July 4. Death was due to heart failure thought to have been brought on when he was knocked down by a huge wave while swimming.

Katherine Bennett Gilliam, wife of Richard B. Gilliam, died this morning at the City of Kingston Hospital. Besides her husband she is survived by her mother, Mrs. William R. Bennett, and two sisters, Vivian, wife of William D. Brininger of this city, and Helen, wife of Dr. Walter M. Dunlap of East Orange, N. J. The funeral will be held from the home of her mother, 60 West Chester street, on Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Interment will be in Wiltwyck cemetery. Mrs. Gilliam, who resided in New York city, was taken sick while visiting her mother about two months ago. While in this city she attended the Albany Avenue Baptist Church.

SIX TEXTILE STRIKERS
UNDER ARREST TODAY.

New Bedford, Mass., July 13 (AP).—Six men under arrest, 677 broken window panes in 12 textile plants, and a police force trudging wearily to duty after a week of extra hours on mill gate duty were revealed this morning when stock was taken after another night of demonstrations against attempts of the mills to operate under a ten per cent wage cut. Those arrested will be arraigned in district court today.

No gain in the number of operatives going to work this morning was apparent. All was quiet at the gates this morning.

Writing Home

Father could not believe his eyes when he saw a letter from young Hugh, who had been transferred to a country branch of the bank. Hugh, after swearing that he would write, had utterly failed for six weeks.

Shafts of Sunshine

When photographing woodland scenes showing shafts of sunshine streaming through the trees, it is generally found that the actual effect as seen on the focusing screen is almost entirely lost, but if these scenes are photographed in the early morning or when there is a certain amount of fog or mist about, the effect is easily "caught" by the camera. The resulting picture is much improved by printing or enlarging upon a cream surface paper toned to a sepia color.

Albany Dry Agent
Wounded by Bullet

Albany, N. Y., July 13 (AP).—A prohibition agent was shot and wounded seriously here today and a fellow officer barely escaped a barrage of bullets when they invaded a district of the city from which they were said to have been warned. The agents, Irving Washburn and Wilfred Grisson, were subjected to the gunfire of a crowd of men who swarmed out of a soft-drink store when the officers attempted to arrest a man in an automobile. City police seized three suspects and a witness. One of the suspects, a double-barreled shot-gun and a revolver, both loaded. The suspects held were S. Kapp, Vincent Bonaventura and Barver Zulee and the witness, John Nelson.

Grisson reported that when an attempt to arrest a man sitting in an automobile in front of the soft-drink establishment was made, a group of men hurried out of the store and ordered that the man be released. The men then opened fire and the Washburn fell with a bullet in the shoulder. Prohibition officials here indicated that warning had been given them indirectly to stay away from the lower Madison avenue district, where the shooting occurred, or they "would get a belly-full of lead."

Bar Bolters from Primary Ballots

Dallas, Texas, July 13 (AP).—The names of Texas Democratic candidates for state offices who have refused to work for the election of Governor Alfred E. Smith today were barred from primary ballots in those counties pending the outcome of a test case.

The third reversal for Democratic party bolters came yesterday when the Galveston county executive committee refused to place the name of Thomas B. Love and other anti-Smith Democrats on the ballots for the primary July 25. Love, former Democratic national committeeman and a leader of the ultra dry faction of the party in Texas, is a candidate for lieutenant governor.

Prior to the action of the Galveston county committee, Love's name was barred from ballots in Cameron county when a district court judge denied an application for a writ of mandamus to compel the committee to recognize his candidacy. His appeal from this decision is pending before the civil court of appeals at San Antonio.

A state supreme court decree upholding the Galveston county committee in a similar case in 1921 was cited by the committee.

Meanwhile plans for an alliance of Democrats opposed to Smith with the state Republican organization were advanced at San Antonio, at a meeting of the Republican state executive committee there. A steering committee was appointed to confer with anti-Smith Democrats.

THIRTEEN IS A LUCKY

Tagging Major League Bases

By William W. Barker, Associated Press Sports Writer.

There's a lot of tagging and there's a lot of tagging for the American League. The New York Yankees have been tagging the American League for some time. But the tagging is not done by day to day to the point that it will take a miracle to lead off Babe Ruth and company from their third successive appearance in the world's series this fall.

The tagging part of the situation for the contenders lies in the fact that for a month the champions have done little better than break even yet they lead the procession by ten and a half games. The answer is that their closest competitors, the Philadelphia Athletics and the St. Louis Browns, have done no better over the same period.

The injuries on how the three leaders have fared since June 1 to have an interesting story to tell. Tabulated they show:

Team	Wins	Losses	Runs	Hits	Errors
Yankees	15	15	555	555	555
Athletics	15	15	555	555	555
Browns	15	15	555	555	555

Thus, although the Yanks have won only four more games than they've lost during this period, they have increased their advantage by one percentage point over the second place Athletics and by 24 points over the Browns. If this sort of thing keeps up the Yanks can coast into the pennant.

The Athletics lost a chance yesterday to cut into the leader's lead when they split even with the Chicago White Sox while Detroit was losing out the Yanks at New York, 4 to 2.

Three runs in the ninth spelled victory for the Tigers. Henry Johnson, the Yanks' young right-hander, hit a home run, but offset this with no fewer than seven passes, most of which were damaging.

Redfield's single scored Cissel, who had doubled, with the run that gave the White Sox a 4 to 3 decision over the A's in the first game. Eddie Rommel was in good form in the nightcap and gave the Athletics an even break on the day, 5 to 2.

The Browns bunched hits off MacFarland in the sixth inning to defeat the Boston Red Sox, 3 to 1. Alvin Crowder chalking up victory No. 10 against one defeat.

Burns' single in the tenth sent the Washington Senators down to a 2 to 1 defeat at the hands of the Cleveland Indians in a tight pitchers' battle between George Uhle of the Indians and Garland Braxton and Fred Marberry.

In the National League, the St. Louis Cardinals increased their lead to five and a half games by trimming the New York Giants, 11 to 1, in a one and one-half inning engagement, halted by rain. Fitzsimmons and Garland Buckeye, former Cleveland hurler, were pounded for 12 hits by the Cards while Jess Haines was letting the Lemmy down with five.

Adolf Lauge and Ray Moss hooked up in a beautiful pitchers' battle at Cincinnati, rain ending hostilities in the last half of the ninth with neither the Brooklyn Dodgers nor the Reds having scored. Moss gave up only three hits and Lauge six.

Charlie Root shook a seven-game streak when he pitched the Chicago Cubs to their third straight win over the Boston Braves, 4 to 1. The Cubs scored all their runs off Virgil Barnes in the first six innings. Cooney finishing up for the Hub tribe.

Adolf Lauge and Ray Moss hooked up in a beautiful pitchers' battle at Cincinnati, rain ending hostilities in the last half of the ninth with neither the Brooklyn Dodgers nor the Reds having scored. Moss gave up only three hits and Lauge six.
